Center for Chinese Studies Visiting Scholar Program Info-Meeting: Learn about the CCS Visiting Scholar Program with research scholar appointments available for international and domestic faculty, students, and more!

Information Session: Center for Chinese Studies | July 10 | 5-6 p.m. | Online

Speakers: Skye VanValkenburgh, Visiting Scholar Program Administrator, Center for Chinese Studies; Jianye He, Chinese Studies Special Collection Librarian, C.V. Star East Asian Library

Sponsor: Center for Chinese Studies \(CCS\)

Are you a faculty member at an overseas or domestic (U.S.) based university looking to learn about options for completing research as a visiting scholar? Are you a student working on your Masters or Ph.D. thesis hoping to enrich your international experience and grow your overseas network in a topnotch research community? Are you not quite sure if you meet the prerequisites for a visiting scholar appointment at the Center for Chinese Studies (CCS)? CCS scholars conduct comparative and area studies research in their field of study on the People's Republic of China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and the Chinese diaspora in other countries. RSVP to learn more about the program at CCS, visiting scholar classifications, the application process, and tips for applying.

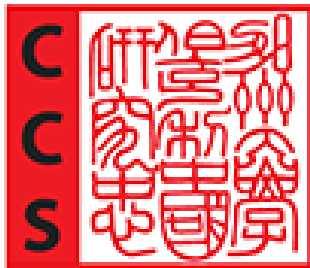

Special Guest, Jianye He, Librarian for Chinese Collections at the C.V. Star East Asian Library, will also share information about the EAL Chinese Studies special collection and other library resources at UC Berkeley, so you can make the best decision about where to study for your research objectives!

Registration required

Registration info: before 4pm PST. Register online by July 10.
